

MIGRATION, EXILE AND ETHNICITY RESEARCH CLUSTER,
DEPARTMENT OF EUROPEAN STUDIES AND MODERN LANGUAGES, UNIVERSITY OF BATH
and
CENTRE FOR EAST EUROPEAN LANGUAGE BASED AREA STUDIES

Temporary Migration and Community Cohesion: the Nature and Impact of Migration from East-Central to Western Europe

University of Bath, 12:00, 7 January – 5:30, 8 January
2008

This two-day workshop will explore East-West migration from a range of postcommunist European countries, both within and outside the European Union, to a range of destinations in Western and Southern Europe. Attention will be paid to both sending and receiving communities. Focusing on particular groups of migrants and particular places, the papers presented at the workshop will explore the links between 'temporariness' and community cohesion.

PROGRAMME

Monday 7

Louise Ryan (University of Middlesex), 'Social networks and social capital: the experiences and strategies of recent Polish migrants in London'

Dorota Osipovič (School of Slavonic and East European Studies, University College London), 'Polish migrants as UK social citizens. Policy framework for social rights' take-up and its links with migration time horizons'

Michał Garapich (Jagiellonian University, Kraków, and Universities of Surrey and Roehampton), 'Making Polonia. power, elites and the problem of ethnicity'

Christin Hess (University of Bath), 'The contested terrain of a "parallel society": the "other" natives in contemporary Germany and Greece'

Isabella Stefanutti (University of Bath), 'The strength of weak ties: Preferences for Slovenian seasonal workers in North-East Italy'

Tuesday 8

Eugenia Markova (London School of Economics), 'New East European workers and community cohesion'

Anne White (University of Bath), 'Can families be "temporary" migrants? Migration as a family livelihood strategy in Poland'

Alison Stenning (University of Newcastle), 'Work, migration and development: Central European migrants and the economic life of cities and communities'

Paweł Kaczmarczyk (Centre of Migration Research, University of Warsaw), 'The impact of migration in Polish regions'

Barbara Cieślińska (University of Białystok), 'The experience of labour migrations in the life of women from Podlasie, Poland'

Violetta Parutis (School of Slavonic and East European Studies, University College London), 'Welcome back? Experiences of returning "home" from the perspective of Polish and Lithuanian migrants'

Tim Elrick (University of Edinburgh), 'The influence of migration on the origin communities. Case studies of Polish-German migrations'

~~~~~

Please contact Anne White (A.White@bath.ac.uk) by 21 December 2007 if you would like to attend. There is no charge for the workshop.

Further details and abstracts are available at <http://www.bath.ac.uk/esml/research/migration/workshops/index.html>.